

Literary Notes.

More than one hundred and sixty of the leading minds of the world will contribute their best thoughts to Dr. Barrow's great work on the Parliament of Religions.

The Catholic papers of Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Keane, Father Hewitt, Rev. Dr. Byrne, Prof. Wade, and other scholars and divines of the elder faith of Christendom, were admirable in spirit, powerful in teaching, and of a masterly sagacity in recognition of, human brotherhood under all of the gaiters of mankind. Dr. Theodore T. Munger's paper on Christianity in Literature, Prof. Terry's on the sacred books of the world as literature, Dr. Briggs' summary of advanced criticism of Hebrew scripture, Prof. Estlin Carpenter's paper on the need of a better conception of revelation, Dr. Lyman Abbott's on religion essentially characteristic of humanity, Dr. Moxom's argument for immortality, Prof. Goodspeed's study of the dead religions, Dr. Washburn's kindly survey of Mohammedanism, Rev. Mr. Slater's similarly sympathetic review of Hindu ideas, and Rev. Mr. Candlin's powerful plea for union among Christians as a moral support to mission work, not to mention other notable papers would alone make a book almost unexampled in significance and interest.

GOOD CHARACTER IMPORTANT

Besides the happy satisfaction that a clear conscience and good character bring to every heart, it has a commercial value that is well to take into consideration. For instance, B. F. Johnson & Co. of Richmond, Va., are advertising in this paper, and offer especially good business opportunities to men of character and standing in their respective communities. They want parties to work all or part of their time, as may suit their convenience.

BOOKS FOR SALE AT THIS OFFICE.

No home is complete without Books, Tracts and Papers; but much the greater part of what is published is either worthless or positively harmful. We cannot rely upon advertisements, as a man, without a conscience can write as good words for what is either valueless or nefarious as for that which is worthy and elevating. In this department it is our aim to offer only such books, tracts and papers, as the editor can personally recommend. We expect to add to the list from time to time as we find books of special merit. We shall also esteem it a favor of our book lovers if they will report to us the title, author and publisher of books they think are entitled to a place in this column.

An exchange tells of a case of a woman, where the physician had pronounced her incurable, getting well and staying so on a few ounces of cream used daily with the addition of some sponge cake. Sip warm milk when you feel out of sorts; it will relieve your nerves and fortify your stomachs, and the world will look brighter to you after you have taken it.

What God may hereafter require of you, you must not give yourself the least trouble about. Everything He gives you to do you must do as well as you can, and that is the best possible preparation for what he may want you to do next. If people would but do what they have to do they would always find themselves ready for what came next.
